

READING COMPREHENSION

GOAL: To read with purpose and understanding.

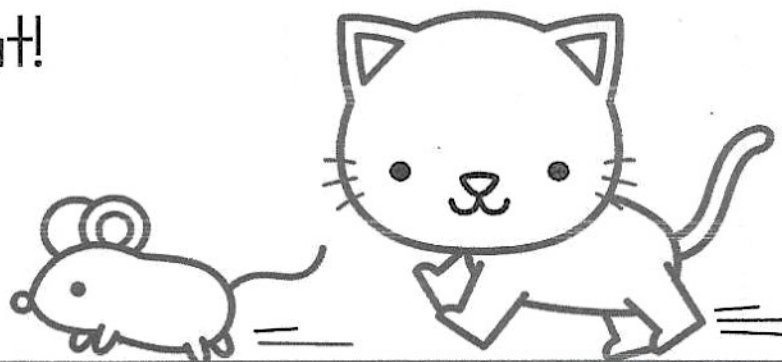

Reading comprehension is the ability to understand what you are reading. The following decodable passages are made up of common sight words and decodable CVC word family words to make reading comprehension practice accessible to students who are just learning to read.

TIP: Your student should read each decodable passage three times (for both fluency practice and comprehension). For each reading, color in a star. After the third reading, have your student answer the comprehension questions. If any of these decodable passages are tricky for your student, review the included sight words and CVC words prior to reading.
